

I think that raising the percentage of single ownership in one market from 35% to 45% would create more monopolies and limit freedom of speech. Likewise, I think that co-ownership of newspapers and radio stations would have the same result. I don't think Rupert Murdoch should get what he wants.